RECOMMENDED DECISION ON 28 U.S.C. § 2254 PETITION

Petitioner filed a petition for a writ of habeas pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 2254. (Petition, ECF No. 1.) Petitioner alleges that he is in custody at the Brevard County Jail in Cocoa, Florida, and is evidently serving a Florida state court sentence. Petitioner seeks to challenge a sentence imposed by a Connecticut state court.

Pursuant to Rule 4 of the Rules Governing Section 2254 Cases, upon the filing of a petition, the Court must conduct a preliminary review of the petition, and “must dismiss” the petition “[i]f it plainly appears from the petition and any attached exhibits that the petitioner is not entitled to relief in the district court.” See McFarland v. Scott, 512 U.S. 849, 856 (1994) (“Federal courts are authorized to dismiss summarily any habeas petition that appears legally insufficient on its face. . .”). Following the required review, I recommend the Court dismiss the matter.

DISCUSSION

“District courts are limited to granting habeas relief ‘within their respective jurisdictions.’” Rumsfeld v. Padilla, 542 U.S. 426, 442 (2004) (quoting 28 U.S.C. § 2241(a)).

“We have interpreted this language to require ‘nothing more than that the court issuing the writ have jurisdiction over the custodian.’” Id. (quoting Braden v. 30th Judicial Circuit Court of Ky., 410 U.S. 484, 495 (1973)). “The plain language of the habeas statute . . . confirms the general rule that for core habeas petitions challenging present physical confinement, jurisdiction lies only in one district: the district of confinement.” Id. at 443. Because Petitioner is not in custody in this District and because Petitioner does not challenge the validity of a conviction rendered in this District, this Court lacks jurisdiction over the petition.

CONCLUSION

Based on the foregoing analysis, I recommend the Court dismiss the petition without prejudice. I further recommend that the Court deny a certificate of appealability, because there is no substantial showing of the denial of a constitutional right within the meaning of 28 U.S.C. § 2253(c)(2).

NOTICE

A party may file objections to those specified portions of a magistrate judge’s report or proposed findings or recommended decisions entered pursuant to 28 U.S.C. 636(b)(1)(B) for which de novo review by the district court is sought, together with a supporting memorandum, within fourteen (14) days of being served with a copy thereof.

Failure to file a timely objection shall constitute a waiver of the right to de novo review by the district court and to appeal the district court’s order.

U.S. Magistrate Judge
